

The Admiral James J. Carey Foundation, Inc.

REAR ADMIRAL JAMES J. CAREY FOUNDATION

PRESS RELEASE

Admiral Carey Foundation
Announces Endowment Of
Future Leaders for America Foundation
Youth Leadership Programs

Washington, DC: April 16, 2014: Following meetings today at the Capitol Hill Club in Washington, DC, Rear Admiral James J. Carey, Chairman of the Rear Admiral James J. Carey Foundation, Inc. of Alexandria, VA [AJJCF] and Mr. MacLane C. Key Esq., President and Chairman of the Future Leaders for America Foundation, Inc., [FLFAF] jointly announced their completion and signing of a Memorandum of Understanding for endowment by the Admiral Carey Foundation of the FLFAF's Washington Scholars Fellowship Programs. Washington Scholars is a highly successful youth leadership training and development programs overseen and operated by the Future Leaders for America Foundation and is focused on providing the USA with a solid core of trained future young leaders who have already indicated their desire for lifetime career paths in national and international public policy.

Admiral Carey stated, "The Admiral Carey Foundation has long been a strong supporter of FLFAF's Washington Scholars Fellowship Programs and their outstanding track record in the training and development of future leaders for our nation who are committed to a life's career path in national and international public policy. With over 600 Washington Scholars graduates to date and more than 100 of them now serving in full-time public policy positions, it is a well-known and highly respected, prestigious organization that has already proven its exceptional ability to provide 'best and brightest' future leaders for our nation."

MacLane Key responded, "This truly wonderful endowment commitment by the Admiral Carey Foundation to the Future Leaders for America Foundation to help fund our Washington Scholars Fellowship Programs will provide us with the ability to grow and expand our youth leadership training and development programs exponentially over time. The Admiral Carey Foundation has always been there in support of our efforts and its endowment commitment now enables us to move forward with our expansion plans, knowing that the funding we are going to need over time will be there."

The FLFAF's Washington Scholars Fellowship Programs has graduates from over 60 major colleges and universities all across the USA, as well as foreign scholars from China, England, Japan, Scotland, Mongolia, Canada, Egypt, and Brazil. Their Summer Scholars class ranges in size from 25-40 Scholars who serve their internships in a broad and diverse spectrum of Washington, DC-based federal agencies, think tanks, private sector corporations, and a growing number of organizations and associations involved in national and international public policy. Further information is available at their website:

www.WashingtonScholars.org

The Admiral Carey Foundation [AJJCF] was founded by Rear Admiral James J. Carey after a lifetime of military and public service. The focus of AJJCF is to provide funding for national and international public policy organizations for the purpose of supporting and expanding their youth leadership training programs. Long-range plans includes funding for some 30 such organizations, including the Future Leaders for America Foundation. Further information regarding AJJCF is available at www.AdmiralCareyFoundation.org Details on Rear Admiral Carey's life and involvements are available on that personal website at www.JamesJCarey.us Upon signing of the MOU with FLFAF, Admiral Carey concluded with these remarks, "I am so very pleased that my foundation can provide this future support to FLFAF and its Washington Scholars youth leadership training programs. Washington Scholars has a decades-long track record of tremendous success and it is my hope that this endowment from AJJCF will ensure that these outstanding programs will continue for many decades and centuries to come". MacLane Key responded, "I echo the Admiral's comments and pledge to him that FLFAF and the Washington Scholars Fellowship Programs will continue to provide the finest youth leadership training available in America. Young future leaders that understand the challenges faced by our nation and our culture are of tremendous importance to our nation's future, and FLFAF stands ready to play our role in ensuring these exceptional leaders are located, trained, and available."

The Admiral Carey Foundation [AJJCF] is a 501.c.3 educational and charitable organization supportive of youth leadership training and development with a focus on ensuring America has a ready resource of trained future leaders to serve in the fields of national and international public policy. Full details on the foundation are available at www.AdmiralCareyFoundation.org

The Future Leaders for America Foundation [FLFAF]: is a 501.c.3 educational and charitable organization which funds and provides management, administration, operations, and oversight for the Washington Scholars Fellowship Programs. The internships made available by Washington Scholars have become among the most prestigious in the USA and are highly sought after with applications each year exceeding available scholarships and funding by close to 800%. Full details on these programs are available at www.WashingtonScholars.org

Questions or queries regarding this Press Release should be addressed as follows:

Admiral Carey Foundation
Rear Admiral [Ret.] James Carey
RADMCarey@aol.com

Future Leaders Foundation
Mr. MacLane Key, Esquire
MKey@MaclaneKey.com

Additional Information:

www.JamesJCarey.us
www.NationalDefenseCommittee.org www.FlagAndGeneralOfficersNetwork.org